Content The Language Arts Blackline Masters book contains reproducible worksheets that provide practice with and review of a variety of language arts skills. Exercises focus on grammar and mechanics, vocabulary, and spelling.

Student Experiences Students learn and review language arts skills and concepts as they complete exercises on the worksheets. Together, the students and teacher read the instructions and work through several items; then students complete the worksheet independently. The worksheets include fill-in-the-blank items as well as exercises that call for students to indicate answers by circling or underlining their choice.

Assessment After students have completed a worksheet, the teacher reviews it with them. As correct answers are identified, students are expected to proofread their work.

Organization Worksheets in the Language Arts Blackline Masters book are organized into six units. Twelve worksheets are provided for each of the first three units, and 18 are provided for each of the last three units. The increased number of lessons in the later units allows for adequate review of skills introduced in previous units.

Resource Materials The Language Arts Annotated Teacher's Edition (included in the Intervention Package) provides instructions and tips for teaching the skills that students practice on the worksheets. The Kaleidoscope Teacher's Edition references lessons in the Language Art
